3. Haunted and Adults only! from Coastal Living Magazine: Marrero's Guest Mansion
Built in 1889 by Francisco Marrero who wanted to entice his new bride in Florida with 13 spacious bedrooms, some with private verandas. After Francisco died, his other wife (yes he had 2 wives)in Cuba quickly evicted his Florida bride along with the children from the mansion. She vowed in public to never leave the house in spirit, which could be why after her death, visitors still hear the sounds of children in the house. Odd since children are not allowed at the mansion today. Repeat guest's claim to see a women's shadow passing through walls. Check it out. Today there is a clothing optional pool at Marrero's Guest Mansion. MORE INFO.
